FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Scott Fowler Named as Air Routing International's Chief Marketing Officer

GA Marketing Professional to Assist Air Routing's Sales and Marketing Development

Houston, TX. July 2008. Scott Fowler officially joined Air Routing International as Chief Marketing Officer and will support Air Routing International's sales and marketing efforts.

A graduate of the University of Minnesota, Fowler launched his career by way of regional sales, trade show, advertising, and e-commerce management positions. Fowler has developed advertising campaigns, audio production, broadcast media, and web initiatives for both domestic and international companies. Fowler previously held the position of Marketing Manager for Air BP for the last 5 years.

"Air Routing continues to expand the array of service offerings to the corporate, charter and managed aircraft community," states Tim Maystrik, VP of Air Routing International. "We are very fortunate to have Scott join our team to oversee our existing and future marketing and sales initiatives."
